Trackr — transaction import reference

For an AI assistant (Claude) filling in Trackr's income & expenses import. Generated 2026-10-17 from the app's own definitions — the names below are exactly what Trackr expects.

Your job: turn the user's income and expenses (bank statement, receipts, notes…) into rows for Trackr's import template, one row per transaction, using only the values listed in this document, spelled exactly as written (including capitals, "&" and "/").

1. One row per transaction. Never merge or invent transactions.
2. Columns in this exact order: Name / Payee | Date | Type | Category | Sub-category | Recurring | Payment Method | Account | From | To | Personal Impact | Currency | Amount | Location | Description.
3. Only Date and Amount are required, but fill every column you can infer.
4. Pick the Category from the list for that row's Type, then the most specific Sub-category under it. If nothing fits, use Other › Miscellaneous.
5. Never invent a category or sub-category name: Trackr would create it as a new one.
6. Money moved between the user's own accounts, savings pockets, brokers or exchanges is a Transfer (Type = Transfer, From and To filled, no category) — never an expense or income. Money paid to or received from other people is not a transfer.
7. When unsure about a value, leave that cell empty rather than guess.

1. Output format

Either give the rows as a table the user can paste into the Transactions sheet of Trackr-transactions-template.xlsx (first row = column names, already there), or produce a .csv file, semicolon-separated (some names contain commas), which Trackr imports directly. Its first line is the column names above joined by semicolons. Example (long lines are wrapped here only for display — in the file each transaction is one line):

```

2. Columns and allowed values

COLUMN	ALLOWED VALUES	RULES	EXAMPLE
Name / Payee	Free text	Who was paid, or who paid. Keep it short and consistent (e.g. always "Albert Heijn", not "AH 1234 MAASTRICHT"), because Trackr reuses the logo and category of a name it has seen before.	`Albert Heijn`
Date required	YYYY-MM-DD (recommended)	Also accepted: DD/MM/YYYY (day first). Never MM/DD/YYYY.	`2026-09-28`

COLUMN	ALLOWED VALUES	RULES	EXAMPLE
Type	Expense, Income or Transfer	Exactly one of these three words. Transfer = money moved between the user's OWN places (bank account ↔ another of their bank accounts, a savings pocket, a broker or a crypto exchange): it is neither income nor spending. For a Transfer, leave Category, Sub-category, Account and Personal Impact empty, write One-off / Variable as Recurring, and fill From and To.	`Expense`
Category	A category from section 3	Must belong to the Type of the row (Income categories for Income, Expense categories for Expense). Spell it exactly as listed. If nothing fits: Other.	`Food & Groceries`
Sub-category	A sub-category of that category (section 3)	Only sub-categories listed under the chosen category. Optional, but always fill it when one fits. If nothing fits under Other: Miscellaneous.	`Groceries`
Recurring	One-off / Variable or Fixed / Recurring	Fixed / Recurring for things that repeat every month (rent, subscriptions, allowance, salary). Everything else: One-off / Variable. (Yes / No are accepted too, but prefer the exact wording.)	`Fixed / Recurring`
Payment Method	Card, Transfer, Cash, Direct Debit	How it was paid. Leave empty if unknown.	`Card`
Account	The exact name of a bank account in Trackr	Leave EMPTY unless the user tells you the exact account name as it appears in Trackr. A name Trackr doesn't know is ignored.	`(empty)`
From	Transfers only: one of the user's places	Where the money left. Write it as Trackr names it: a bank account name (e.g. ING), a pocket as Account › Pocket (e.g. ING › Holidays), a broker as Name (broker), an exchange as Name (exchange). If you don't know the exact name, write the name you see — the user picks the right one in Trackr's preview. Empty for Income and Expense.	`ING`
To	Transfers only: one of the user's places	Where the money arrived — same names as From. Empty for Income and Expense.	`ING › Holidays`
Personal Impact	Neutral, Positive, Negative	Neutral for almost everything. Positive for things that are good for the user or others (donation, gym, course). Negative for habits they want to cut (tobacco, gambling, excessive takeaway).	`Neutral`
Currency	EUR, USD, GBP, CHF	Three-letter code only, no symbol.	`EUR`

COLUMN	ALLOWED VALUES	RULES	EXAMPLE
Amount required	A positive number	Dot as decimal separator, 2 decimals, no currency symbol, no thousands separator. The Type column decides whether it is money in or out — never write a minus sign when Type is filled in.	`23.40`
Location	Free text (optional)	City or place, e.g. "Maastricht". Leave empty if unknown.	`Maastricht`
Description	Free text (optional)	Any useful extra detail. Leave empty if there is nothing to add.	`Weekend trip`

3. Categories and sub-categories

5. Common mistakes to avoid

- Using an Expense category on an Income row (or the reverse), e.g. Salary is Income only.
- A sub-category that belongs to a different category, e.g. Groceries goes under Food & Groceries, not Shopping.
- Minus signs with Type filled in, currency symbols (€, $), or thousands separators in Amount.
- Dates written month-first (09/28/2026) — use 2026-09-28.
- Bank jargon as the name ("CARD PAYMENT AH 1234 MAASTR NLD") — write the merchant: "Albert Heijn".
- Recurring written freely ("monthly") — use exactly "Fixed / Recurring" or "One-off / Variable".
- Putting money into a savings pocket, another own bank account, a broker (Trade Republic…) or an exchange (Binance…) as an Expense — it is a Transfer.
