

Trackr — transaction import reference

For an AI assistant (Claude) filling in Trackr's income & expenses import. Generated 2026-09-28 from the app's own definitions — the names below are exactly what Trackr expects.

- Your job: turn the user's income and expenses (bank statement, receipts, notes...) into rows for Trackr's import template, one row per transaction, using only the values listed in this document, spelled exactly as written (including capitals, "&" and "/").
1. One row per transaction. Never merge or invent transactions.
  2. Columns in this exact order: Name / Payee | Date | Type | Category | Sub-category | Recurring | Payment Method | Account | Personal Impact | Currency | Amount | Location | Description.
  3. Only Date and Amount are required, but fill every column you can infer.
  4. Pick the Category from the list for that row's Type, then the most specific Sub-category under it. If nothing fits, use Other › Miscellaneous.
  5. Never invent a category or sub-category name: Trackr would create it as a new one.
  6. Leave out transfers between the user's own accounts, savings pockets or brokers.
  7. When unsure about a value, leave that cell empty rather than guess.

1. Output format

Either give the rows as a table the user can paste into the Transactions sheet of Trackr-transactions-template.xlsx (first row = column names, already there), or produce a .csv file, semicolon-separated (some names contain commas), which Trackr imports directly. Its first line is the column names above joined by semicolons. Example (long lines are wrapped here only for display — in the file each transaction is one line):

```
Name / Payee;Date;Type;Category;Sub-category;Recurring;Payment Method;Account;Personal Impact;
Currency;Amount;Location;Description
Albert Heijn;2026-09-04;Expense;Food & Groceries;Groceries;One-off / Variable;Card;;Neutral;EUR;23.40;
Maastricht;
Room rent;2026-09-01;Expense;Housing;Rent;Fixed / Recurring;Direct Debit;;Neutral;EUR;450.00;;
September
Parents;2026-09-03;Income;Family Support;Monthly Allowance;Fixed / Recurring;Transfer;;Neutral;EUR; 200.00;;

2. Columns and allowed values

| COLUMN               | ALLOWED VALUES              | RULES                                                                                                                                                                                     | EXAMPLE      |
|----------------------|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------|
| Name / Payee         | Free text                   | Who was paid, or who paid. Keep it short and consistent (e.g. always "Albert Heijn", not "AH 1234 MAASTRICHT"), because Trackr reuses the logo and category of a name it has seen before. | Albert Heijn |
| Date required | YYYY-MM-DD(recommended) | Also accepted: DD/MM/YYYY (day first). Never MM/DD/YYYY.                                                                                                                                  | 2026-09-28   |
| Type                 | Expense or Income           | Exactly one of these two words. Transfers between own accounts, pockets or brokers are NOT imported — leave them out.                                                                     | Expense      |

| COLUMN                 | ALLOWED VALUES                                        | RULES                                                                                                                                                                                          | EXAMPLE           |
|------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Category        | A category from section 3                             | Must belong to the Type of the row (Income categories for Income, Expense categories for Expense). Spell it exactly as listed. If nothing fits: Other .                                 | Food & Groceries  |
| Sub-category    | A sub-category of that category (section 3)           | Only sub-categories listed under the chosen category. Optional, but always fill it when one fits. If nothing fits under Other: Miscellaneous .                                          | Groceries         |
| Recurring       | One-off / Variable or Fixed / Recurring | Fixed / Recurring for things that repeat every month (rent, subscriptions, allowance, salary). Everything else: One-off / Variable. (Yes / No are accepted too, but prefer the exact wording.) | Fixed / Recurring |
| Payment Method  | Card, Transfer, Cash, Direct Debit             | How it was paid. Leave empty if unknown.                                                                                                                                                       | Card              |
| Account         | The exact name of a bank account in Trackr            | Leave EMPTY unless the user tells you the exact account name as it appears in Trackr. A name Trackr doesn't know is ignored.                                                                   | (empty)           |
| Personal Impact | Neutral, Positive, Negative                    | Neutral for almost everything. Positive for things that are good for the user or others (donation, gym, course). Negative for habits they want to cut (tobacco, gambling, excessive takeaway). | Neutral           |
| Currency        | EUR, USD, GBP, CHF                             | Three-letter code only, no symbol.                                                                                                                                                             | EUR               |
| Amount required | A positive number                              | Dot as decimal separator, 2 decimals, no currency symbol, no thousands separator. The Type column decides whether it is money in or out — never write a minus sign when Type is filled in.     | 23.40             |
| Location        | Free text (optional)                                  | City or place, e.g. "Maastricht". Leave empty if unknown.                                                                                                                                      | Maastricht        |
| Description     | Free text (optional)                                  | Any useful extra detail. Leave empty if there is nothing to add.                                                                                                                               | Weekend trip      |

3. Categories and sub-categories

Categories depend on the Type: an Income row uses an Income category, an Expense row an Expense category. Use a sub-category only under its own category. 12 income categories (67 sub-categories) and 20 expense categories (200 sub-categories).

3a. Income categories — use with Type = Income

5. Common mistakes to avoid

- Using an Expense category on an Income row (or the reverse), e.g. Salary is Income only.
- A sub-category that belongs to a different category, e.g. Groceries goes under Food & Groceries, not Shopping.
- Minus signs with Type filled in, currency symbols (€, $), or thousands separators in Amount.
- Dates written month-first (09/28/2026) — use 2026-09-28.
- Bank jargon as the name ("CARD PAYMENT AH 1234 MAASTR NLD") — write the merchant: "Albert Heijn".
- Recurring written freely ("monthly") — use exactly "Fixed / Recurring" or "One-off / Variable".
